IS4 UPDATE: WARRIOR SHIPS TAKEN DOWN BY CHALLENGE

The following transcript, recorded only hours ago, has been officially confirmed by the Hammanders (the Hammer Commanders).

- CPT Solohan50 burst into COL Genie's office at 19:29 appearing out of breath. Genie was holding a glass of Chalquilla and could be seen quickly hiding it out of sight. -

SOLOHAN50: "Genie! The forces of COMs Silverware and Margenta have met each other at Spar Alpha and Margenta's fleet got wiped out without much of a fight! Word is that Silverware is leading a huge force there and boasting about how big his fleet is."

GENIE: "That sure sounds like Silverware... I mean Silwar. He's always overcompensating for something."

SOLOHAN: "Is that why the Challenged released so much slash fic of him? Because he pretends to have a huge fleet but is actually packing a little Yub Nub, emphasis on the "Nub"? I heard that COM Margarine wrote that fiction under duress, otherwise she'd never get promoted."

- Genie pauses and smirks. -

GENIE: "I can't confirm or deny these allegations, but that would explain a lot."

SOLOHAN: "Anyway, boss, it's good news for us! If they keep going at it like this, we'll sweep the whole competition without even having to fight."

- The little Ewok begins pouring himself a glass of Chalquilla. -

GENIE: "How the hell did you find that so quickly?"

- Solohan is downing an entire glass of Chalquilla and does not respond. -

GENIE: "Pour me one and let's go over our battle plans...".

Challenged forces easily taking over the Warrior in the first battle of IS4.
